

Books are your best friends. They won't laugh at you, won't cheat you but you'll learn a lot from them.

Jan Rak

The library garners literature and popular science books from different knowledge domains according to community's needs. There are over 30 thousands books in the collection. The number is growing thanks to local council, Ministry of Culture, National Heritage funds and also from donations. In the library there are books from all knowledge domains. Everyday the library not only gathers, indexes and makes the collection available to the readers, but it is also a central point of culture in the city. It integrates its readers through frequently organized paintings exhibitions, best Christmas postcard competitions or best Christmas decorations competitions, Easter eggs adornment workshops, reading aloud mornings, poetry afternoons and holiday classes for children.
